The Water Healthy.

Health Officer Townshend and the Agricultural Department chemists met instevening to discuss the report of the analysis of the five samples of Potomac water that were collected by them—two out of the two creeks, one from each of the two reservoirs, and one from the mouth of the conduit. They decided that they would not make a report as nothing unusual was found, and the result was as they expected to find it. They stated that the water was not polinted although there was, of course, some impurities found in it.

The Changes That are Being Made in the Department of Justice.

Those who think and protest that the Administration is going too slow in making changes should seek solace by looking upon Attorney General Garland's Department. Of the employes in that Department designated as elects there remain only five who were employed on the 4th of last March. The changes in marshals and district attorneys have been frequent and comprehensive. There is soon to be a general change in assistant attorneys throughout the country. A new chief clerk for the Department is one of the things that may be expected in the early future, and all who are cognizant of the business of the Department say that there ought to be a new man in that place.

As predicted in Tim Currio, the Attorney-General has made an entire change in the force of assistant attorneys to take effect the first of next month. Those who will then go are Frank H. Howe, a son of the late Postmaster-General. J. S. Blair, J. C. Fay, H. P. Heath, J. S. Lyon and L. R. Diek, The force of examiners also go. They are Rahab Ballin, who was considered.

C. Fay, H. P. Heath, J. S. Lyon and L. R. Dick. The force of examiners also go. They are Ralph Ballin, who was conspinous in Star-Route matters. J. W. Bowman, J. W. Nightingale and M. L. Yorke. The general agent of the Department, J. L. Stanton of Pennsylvania, a personal friend of ex-Attorney-General Brewster, and Mr. J. W. Ewing, the appointment clerk, will also leave on the first of next month.

The only official confirmation of the reported changes at the Department of Justice is given to-day in a statement that the six assistant attorneys were asked to resign yesterday afternoon and that two have already complied. The resignations take effect July I. and it is distinctly stated that no reflection is east upon the efficiency or integrity of the officials, nor were there charges of any kind against them. To-day the Attorney-General removed John McHravy, a watchman, and Mr. Losby, a laborer.

AN INSURANCE QUESTION.

Interview with the Secretary of the "Anglo-American,"

The following press dispatch appeared in this morning's papers: At axy N. Y. June 22.—Superintendent Mctall of the Insurance Department warms the people against accepting policies of the Angio-American Insurance Company of Washington, D. C. The company, he says, luss no authority to issue policies in this State, and it has no deposit with the superintendent for the protection of its policy-holders.

A reporter of The Chirtie called at the office of the above-named insurance company, at No. 620 F street northwest, and found Mr. D. F. Hamlink, the secretary of the company, who, in reply to the re-porter's interrogative as to what he had to say in regard to the above, replied that it was true the company had not compiled with the laws of the State of New York, and that the company did not solicit business in that State.

They write policies on property in New York when applications are made and all the answers are satisfactory, as they had a right to do in the charter under which they organized. All the necessary papers and statements of this company called for by the law regulating insurance companies in the District of Columbia are filed at the City Hall. "We were organized," said Mr. Hamlink, "one year ago to-day, but did not commence to do business until some time in July. The statement you refer to does not reflect upon the company, as it is entirely optional to the company whether they comply with the laws of the State of New York or any other State. There are at least one hundred other insurance companies in the United States who have not complied with the laws of the State of New York. Still they write policies in various parts of the United States at the home office the same as we do.

I doubt whether Superintendent Me-Call issued the above warning, but simply replied to a letter of inquiry as to whether the company had taken out a license to do business in the State of New York, for I take it that McCall has enough to do without issuing notices of warning to the people not to insure with the company because they had not seen fit to enter the State of New York."

MR. MERRICK'S DEATH

A GREAT LAWYER AND GOOD CITI-ZEN GONE.

Notes of His Early Life and Professional Career. A Record of Eminent Success His Family Relations - Incidents of His Last Illness - Action of the Courts

Richard Thomas Merrick, who died at 0:10 o'clock this morning, of congestion of the brain, was born January 25, 1828, in Charles County, Md., and was one of three distinguished sons of Wm. D. Merrick, a very prominent man in Maryland history during the early part of this cenhistory during the early part of this cen-tury. He was educated at Georgetown Uni-versity and took a later course at Princeton, when he graduated in law. In 1856, after practicing for a time here, he went to Chi-cago, on the advice of Senator Stephen A. Douglas, who was a strong friend of his, and formed a law partnership there with Senator Douglas' former partner and con-tinued there until 1863, when he returned here. Since that time he has been in the active practice of his profession here and attained a rank held by few of the disciples of Blackstone and Marshall. At the outbreak of the Mexican war, the Third United States Dragoons was organized, and he was commissioned by President Polk as captain of the troops raised in Maryland, and served with distinguished gallantry in the campaign from Vera Cruz to the City of Mexico, and was especially mentioned in one of Gereral Scott's official reports for gallantry. He was the youngest man who ever held a captain's commission in the menta-

He was the youngest man who ever held a captain's commission in the regular army, and he celebrated his nineteenth birthday in Mexico.

In 1844 he married here the daughter of Mr. James C. McGuire, one of the best known of Washington's citizens and noted for his devotion to art and encouragement of artists. Mrs. Metrick was a noted beauty here, and has in her group of eight children—six daughters and two little sons—several miniature portraits of her younger days. He was celebrated through the county as an orator, and during the last Presidential campaign was called upon to take the stump in a number of Northern and Western States.

HIS LAST MOMENTS. For nearly a week past the death of Mr. Merrick had almost hourly been looked for, but Saturday gave hope that his life would be spared. Late that night he ratlied, and Sunday gave hope to his auxions watchers that he would conquer in the great struggle. His improved condition con-tinued through yesterday and last night until shortly before 4 o'clock this morn-until shortly before 4 ô'clock this morning, when a relapse occurred, and all of his family within reach were hastily summoned to his bedside.

Justice William M. Merrick, his half-brother, arrived before 5 o'clock, and Mr. Morris, the law partner and close friend of the dead orator, with Mr. Hamilton and others, formed the group in the mona with the dying man and Drs. Magnahr and Sowers, the medical attendants. Drs. Van Bibber and Smith of Baltimore, who had been summoned here in consultation, returned home yesterday.

had been summoned here in consultation, returned home yesterday.

The relapse of this morning continued until nearly 6 o clock, when the wonderful yitality of the patient again asserted itself, and at 8 o clock his condition was even better than on Saturday. It was, however, the last flicker of life's expiring lamp, and just at 10:10 a, m, this morning, the soul of the dying man passed away to solve the greatest of all mysteries.

All the morning, after his death beautiful and the soul of the dying man passed away to solve the greatest of all mysteries.

All the morning, after his death became known, his residence was througed with prominent people who called to express their sympathy. Undertaker Speare was summoned immediately after death and took charge of the body to prepare it for the funeral, which will take place Thursday morning at 11 o'clock, al St. Motthew's Church. During his last illness, before he lapsed into his unconor bar, his acquaintance dating back to boyhood, when, as a storient, Mr. Merrick gave promise of a successful career at the bar. It was said to think that one must give up his life ere reaching that age which most of them leaded forward to. They would miss his viger, judgment, intelligence and zeal with which he was wont to present his cases. Like doubtless many others felt, the speaker felt that a friend had gone from among them. Out of respect to the memory of Mr. Merrick the court them adjourned. Mr. Riddle then informed the Equity Court of Mr. Merrick's death, and Justice Cox immediately adjourned his court.

In the Criminal Court Colonel W. A. Cook called attention to Mr. Merrick's death and suggested that the Court adjourn. Justice MacArthur said that they had all known Mr. Merrick so long and so well that his loss seemed a passonal one. He spoke of the noility and fascination of the deceased as a lawyer and speaker, and declared that these may chin the right to stand at the front of this or any other har of the rountry. At the close of his remarks the court was adjourned for the day.

MES, MERRICK'S CONDITION. Mrs. Merrick's trouble, which was su-perinduced by abscesses in the car, has so much prostrated her that grave fears are entertained of her death. At the hour THE CRITIC goes to press a consultation over her case is being held by Drs. Ma-gruder, Lincoln, Sowers and Elichie.

The Northwest War.

Winnips, Max., June 23.—A late dispatch from Straubenzie, near Fort Pitt, says a courier from Otter's camp at Stony Lake reports Big Bear making for Water Hen Lake, with Otter in close pursuit, Otter asks for more mounted men. It is probable Middleton will send mounted police under Herchmer. Ofter capturest Chief Yellow Sky and his band. They say they were not with Big Bear, but forty stolen cattle were found in their possession, which they admitted having stolen from Robert Wilde's ranch, near Battleford. The McLean family and the otter prisoners with Big Bear have escaped, aided by Wood Croes, who deserted Big Bear. They are now on their way to Middleton's camp.

Winnipso, Max., June 23.—The white prisoners who escaped from Big Bear arrived at Middleton's camp this morning. They say that they had a hard, rough time of it, but it might have been worse. The Wood Crees split off from Big Bear and forced the latter to give up the prisoners. The prisoners are all in good health. McLean says no personal insult was offered, either to himself or any member of his family.

Music at the Arsenal. General Gibson, the new commandant at the Arsenal knows Washington of old, and knowing well how its people are music-lovers, has arranged for a least in that way. On Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings of each week, and every Friday evenings of each week, and every morning, the excellent band of the Third Artillery, under the leadership of Professor Hnenfeldt, will play for an hour after guard mounting. The band is stationed on the lawn just in front of the adjutant's office, under the elms, and during these openair concerts the groups of children and ladies form as pretty a picture as is usually seen at the White House grounds when the Marine Band is playing. Each evening takes more people to the Arsemil grounds to hear the music, and after 4 o'clock the broad drives are thronged with carriages.

THE TROUBLESOME INDIANS. Band of Southern Utes Again on the Warpath.

Denason, Coto., June 22.—Ames Senger from Bolores Valley, who arrived yeserslay, says the Indians land killed a neighbor named Gentliner, seriously wounded his wife and burned his barns haysticks, etc. The messenger confirmed the report that cowboys had killed six of a family of Indians. One young buck who belonged to the same family was wounded, but escaped, came to the Ignacio agency and told his story and immediately 250 warriors came to the agency and demanded revenge. Agent stolkielmer satisfied them by agreeing to so, with twentyfied them, by agreeing to us with twenty-flye of them to Fort Lewis, get an escart of soldlers there, and proceed to the scene of the trouble, investigate the whole mat-ter and bring back the dead bottles of their ter and bring back the dead bottles of their comrades.

Accordingly the agent and his tweaty-five companions passed through here instable to route for Port Lewis. Another a seenger came in his night with a report that a party of Indians had met Jose Dougherty, a brother of aprain Dougherty of the Twenty-second Cavalry, now stationed at Fort Lewis, while on his way to his home, near Mitchell Springs, killed him, and cavried his wife into captrylly, Captain Perrine, who was in camp in Montezuma Valley with three companies, sent aprain Dougherty with his command to the scene of the magner.

The commander at Fort Lewis, hearing of the action of Captain Perrine, sent a company of cavalry to intercept Captain Dougherty, fearing he might lose discretion and seek revenge for the death of his brother and the captivity of his wife, who is a daughter of Mr. Mitchell of Mitchell Springs, with whom Dougherty's children are shying during the absence of their parents. There are many conflicting stories as in who begun the trouble. The cowboys claim that it was the Indians and the Indians and their agent accuse the cowboys of carrying out their threat to kill all the Indians they and off the reservation. The troops are arriving and the Indians will probably return to their reservation.

Firearms Among the Boys.

Little Rock, Ark., June 23.—Saturday last Carl Wall, 14 years old, son of D. C. Wall, went to the door of Parson's drug store, in Gainesville, with a rifle and fired at a crowd of boys who were standing by the connier. The ball first struck Charlie McClamrock in the side, glancing off one of his ribs. It then cent a lock of hair from the head of a little son of Leonidus Stedman and then struck Felfard, another son of Mr. Stedman, in the left eye and lodged in his head, where it still remains, Felfard Stedman cannot recover. Young Wall was arrested and placed under heavy bonds. He gives no explanation of the shooting. shooting.

A Maniae Runs Annek.
WHERESHARER, PA., June 23.—Dayid Williams, a recent recruit to the Salvation Army, created considerable excitement this morning by dashing through the streets, knife in hand, attempting to kill some one. It took eight policemen to capture him, as he defied a crowd of 200 who surrounded him. He says that the Lord came to him in a dream and said that he must make a human sacrifice. He accordingly tied his little grand-daughter to a bedpost and attempted to kill her, but she was rescued. Williams was a steady, hard-working miner prior to his conversion.
